erect, and said in a clear, dutinot, slow voice: Into Thy hands, oh Lord, I commend my spirit. Then, still standing at his full height, he added 'Jeous, receive my soul."

Immediately after the execution three notices were posted on the prison door. The first signed ! the Under Sheriff of London, the Governor of the prison and Father James McCarrett, Casement's confessor, read: "Judgment of death was this day executed on Roger David Case ment in His Majesty's prison of Pentonville in our presence." A similar notice was signed by the Under Sheriff of Middisers County. The third bere the name of P. R. Mander, the prison surgeon, who certified that he had examined the body and found Casement dead

At the Coroner's inquest, held immediately after the hanging, the Chief Warden testified that death fiends that has been known here for in Xorkville Court. The Magistrate said that the evidence was not sufficient to years.

pited: "I saw no evidence of insanity. He acted in a same manner to the end."

TRAPDOOR OF SCAFFOLD TEST. ED THOROUGHLY. Ellis, the executioner, arrived in the prison early last evening and immediately made his preparations. He examined the trapdoor in the execution shed and tested it thoroughly with a bag exactly the same weight as Casement. Eilis remained in the prison all night.

Casement showed not the slightest concern over his fate. He ate well and chatted freely and cheerily with two warders in his condemned cell. After a hearty late supper he divested himself for the last time of his convict clothes and went to bed. He was notified that he would be allowed to wear his own civilian clothes for the execution though he would not be permitted to wear a collar.

All the members of Casement's family were Protestants and he was brought up in that faith, but became a convert to Roman Catholicism within the last few weeks. On June 29 he was registered as a member of the Roman Catholic Church, and since that time Fathers McCarrell and Carey of Eden Grove Church, near the prison, have been ministering to him. He received his first and only communion at 7 o'clock this morning. when he assisted at mass in his cell. OVERPOWERING LOVE FOR GOD

Father McCarrell said that he found Casement to be a beautiful character and that he never instructed any one in his religion who showed himself a quicker or more promising learner.

All hopes of an eleventh hour reday with the statement of Lord Robert Cecil, Parliamentary Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, that no Government doing its duty could interfere with the sentence. Supplementing this were the dramatic disclosures by Lord Newton in the House of Lords that the Germans recently shot two Irish prisoners who refused to join Casement's Irish Legion. Gavin Duffy, Casement's solicitor. who appeared in behalf of relatives, said that Casement's health at times was very bad. Duffy made a plea that the body be handed over to relatives, which the authorities, he said. had refused. The Coroner declared he had no power to interfere, whereupon Duffy protested, saying it was a "monstrous act of indecency that the authorities should refuse such a

HE HAD HIGH HOPES OF RE-

PRIEVE LAST NIGHT. According to one news agency, Casement had high hopes of being reprieved until the eve of his execution. He did not hide the fact that he expected his many powerful friends would obtain for him a free pardon, because many of them exercised no fittle influence in political as well as literary circles. "As there was no sign of reprieve last night," this account says, "the condemned man became very morose and hardly spoke at all. He did. however, inquire about the Zeppelin raids, and asked if any German airstips had reached London, Soon afterward he became resigned to his fate, and after he had done a consid-
